FIRE SAFETY

Acts that are a threat to safety, i.e. setting fires in trash cans, using lighter fluid in a prank, open flames, using charcoal grills, and using candles are prohibited in all housing areas. Such behavior will result in the removal of all parties involved from campus, and the University may seek legal action.

Such misuse of the fire safety equipment is a felony and will result in the removal of the involved party/parties from campus, and the University may seek legal action.

It is each guest’s responsibility to evacuate to the designated assembly areas when the fire alarm sounds. Failure to evacuate immediately is prohibited and a violation of the California Fire Code.

GENDER INCLUSIVE HOUSING

Housing • Dining • Hospitality is an inclusive organization for all members of UC San Diego’s community, including our transgender, non-binary, genderqueer, gender non-conforming and intersex students, staff, faculty, summer program and conference attendees. Because many believe that areas like housing are only for men and women, we want to ensure all genders, gender identities and gender expressions are included in our housing, dining and hospitality efforts. This extends to those who contract with our facilities. In effort to support all members for our community, we request that all campus, conference and non-UC San Diego groups abide by gender inclusive housing, including non-binary, inclusive options for people in all programs, especially our children and youth programs. Centering the needs of non-binary, intersex and transgender children and their parents ensures we are living the UC San Diego Principles of Community, and abide by state non-discrimination laws and the California Gender Recognition Act. For more information or questions about our commitment to gender inclusion, please contact Jackie Campbell at 858.534.3468.

BED BUGS

- Guests shall not bring any personal furnishings or belongings that are known to or should reasonably be known to be infested with bed bugs.

- Bed Bug Appearance: Bed bugs have six legs. Adult bed bugs have flat bodies about 1/4 of an inch in length and their color can vary from red and brown to copper colored. Young bed bugs are only about 1/16 of an inch in length and they have almost no color. When a bed bug feeds its body swells, may lengthen, and becomes bright red, sometimes making it appear to be a different insect. Bed bugs do not fly. They can either crawl or be carried from place to place on objects, people, or animals. Bed bugs can be hard to find and identify because they are tiny and try to stay hidden.

- Life Cycle and Reproduction: An average bed bug lives for about 10 months. Female bed bugs lay one to five eggs per day and bed bugs grow to full adulthood in about twenty-one (21) days. Bed bugs can survive for months without feeding.

- Bed Bug Bites: Because bed bugs usually feed at night, most people are bitten in their sleep and do not realize they were bitten. A person’s reaction to insect bites is an immune response and varies from person to person. Sometimes the red welts caused by the bites will not be noticed until many days after a person was bitten, if at all.

- For more information, see the United States Environmental Protection Agency and the National Pest Management Association at: www2.epa.gov/bedbugs and www.pestworld.org/all-things-bed-bugs.

The University Police Department will hold the items for ninety (90) days. After ninety (90) days if items have not been claimed the items will become the property of the University to dispose of in any way they determine.
